Ohio Volunteer Infantry. THE DECENT PARTY. The State Journal gives, as a fair specimen of Copperhead tacties in the conduct of the political canvass, the following from the Fremont Mes-

ger. After half a column of slanderous abuse of General Cox, the editor says:

THE COMING ELECTION.

From all parts of the State we hear the most neering accounts of the prospect of electing the leading Copperheads and their followers expected a split in the Union ranks, and built their hopes upon it; but finding themselves deceived in that respect, they are in the condition of a demoralized army, and know not upon what ground to make a stand. General Cox, in accordance with the programme of the Union State Central Committee, will take the stump carry the State by at least from sixty to one hundred thousand majority. In the mean time the political action of Pres the respect and admiration of the friends of the country, and is binding together the loyal, both North and South, into giving him a generous support. The dark clouds that threatened to engulf the country are passing away, and the vexed questions involved in the reconstruction of the governments of the disloyal States, bid fair to be settled upon terms that will command the respect of the masses of the people, and ce ment together the Union party, giving it control of the destinies of the Republic for years to come. In this county we feel sanguine that the patriotic fire that has burnt in the breasts in the of the loyal people during the sangunary years that have passed since the opening of the rebellion will not be permitted to die out, and with the ranks of the Union party recruited by the returning veterans, and their generous support, we may fairly anticipate a Union majority at the coming election that will utterly overwhelm our political adversaries, and teach them the fatal mistake they have made in giving aid and comfort to the public enemies during the recenwar. Let us, then, unite together to render perfect our organization, so as to insure the polling of our full strength, and we may then rest secure in the triumph of those principles that have guided us, as a party, in the past, and which, if faithfully carried out, will give to our country peace and prosperity in the future.

eneral Kilpatrick's Opinion of Copperher-

The Newark Accordiser gives the following report of the speech delivered by General Kilpatrick, on taking the chair as temporary President of the Union State Convention at Tren-

GENTLEMEN AND FELLOW-CITIZENS OF MY NA-TIVE STATE: I truly appreciate the great honor you have conferred on me, an humble soldier from New Jersey, in selecting me to preside over the only loyal convention that will be call-ed in the State for the nomination of a Candidate for Governor. [Loud and continued applanse.] It is scarcely necessary for me to say that this distinction is unexpected and almost overwhelmns me; and in accepting it I do not intend to make any extended remarks: I should as soon think of talking war to that great sol dier General Grant, [tremendous applause] as to talk politics to all this vast concourse of politicians [laughter and applause]; to men who are not only my seniors in wisdom, but in years and who have made politics the study of their lives. Yet I do desire to say that I accepted an invitation to meet with you here to-day in or nd to show how a soldier sh self, now how a soldier should conduct him-self, now he war is over, when patriotism demands his services or influence. To show to Union men and Copperheads how a soldier respects the former and despises the latter; how be condemns their traitorous acts, which have disgraced my native State for the past four years. I am here, feeling that I am among mer who never spoke a word of disloyalty, and who never faltered, and to represent men who have remained firm during the dark hours of the Union, and who have prayed, fought, and bled for our country-led by that great and good man, Abraham Lincoln. [Immense and long continued applause.]

You have assembled here to-day, my friends nder no ordinary circumstances, and, I trust, with good promise of success in redeeming the name of our State. I tell you, wherever I go to New York, Philadelphia, Washington, while travelling in the cars-everywhere I hear language in reference to New Jersey which fills my whole soul with disgust and hatred to those who have disgraced my native State; and how it is possible for any of its citizens to join hands with traitors is beyond my comprehensions.— Fellow citizens, I have deviated from the course of military men in taking the stand I have, but I have been more excited since I have been in New Jersey over what I have heard said that I was during any of the scenes through which I have passed during the war. Do you know that I have heard men here say it would have been better to let the South go; that they beieve in State rights; that the martyred Presikent was a tyrant! and that his successor, Andrew Johnson, is a second Nere! There are men in Sussex, with much zeal but very little brains, who rejoice that they voted for John C. Breckinridge once, and say "by thunder they would do it again if they had an opportunity. Not satisfied with the sacrifices, expenses, and all the calamities of the war, they now tell you that Johnson is a murderer in approving the execution of the assassin of the President. The Copperhead editors were equally guilty with othern rebels. [He referred especially to an whole batch of such traitors should be hung on the same tree with Jeff. Davis.]

AN ENGLISH PREDICTION. The following is an extract from a letter of 8th July, 1865, from a London banker to his corres pondent in New York: "We are glad to observe that your inform tion indicates a probability that there will be no difficulty in raising southern produce by means of free labor. Should this be so, and the rection to taxation, there can be little do after a very few years, in which it may be no cessary to borrow a portion of the amount re quired to discharge the interest and other exenditures of the country, the United States will arrive at a degree of material prosperity that will enable it to carry its large debt easily VALLANDIGHAM'S VERACITY. C. L. Vallandigham has written a letter the Chicago Times, denying certain alleged facts and Ame in the testimony of General Rosecrans before the Committee on the Conduct of the War .-The first point in the denial is as follows: General Rosceraus did not "ascertain through the Lodges," nor in any other way, my intention to return to Ohio. Neither "the lodges, nor any individual person, ever knew, heard or ation-made designedly to mislead-that it was my purpose to go direct from Windsor to not postponed till after my return. After this frank confession of "repeated" lying, it is useless to ask credence for anything

WHAT HAVE I DONE? When Gen. Sherman was in Zanesville a few days ago, some one suggested to him that the Vallandighamers desired to make him their candidate for the Presidency. The General re-plied to the suggestion: - What have I done, I never was in the Penitentiary? I must first have been a convict before being their candidate for President!" Comment is unnecessary .-

Grant is reported to have said, in a conrersation with the Mexican Minister a few days | China for Calloa, stopped at the island in a sego "the French will have to leave Mexico," | leaky condition, and rescued them.

One Way to Punish Jeff. Davis. A novel suggestion is made by the New York correspondent of the London Spectator, thus: ticket by an overwhelming majority. The great popularity of General Cox, and the unanimity of his nomination, has deprived the Copperhead party of all hopes of success. The ble, perhaps a luxurious life abroad, receiving much attention from certain people. He must be conspiciously punished, and yet not made a martyr either by his imprisonment or his death. Therefore, upon his condemnation I would reprieve his sentence indefinitely on condition that he gave his parole never to leave the country, and to report himself once a month to the judicial or military officer of the republic nearest to his place of residence, and once a year and thoroughly canvass the State, and with a to the President at Washington. From any Fisher Thomas N . 2 perfect of ganization of the Union ranks, we can position of public trust he is of course cut off. -If necessary he should be comfortably supported at the expense of the nation. His only punishment should be that of owing his life to the clemency of the government he sought to destroy, and the becomming humiliation of publicident Johnson and his Cabinet is commanding acknowledging its authority once a month while he lived. And such an example would be more instructive than a hanging. Thus would I do with the chief civil and military
